Bryce Williams is not the first lunatic to kill in the name of political correctness.

Williams also serves to remind us that the so-called "right-wing" by no means has a monopoly on violent lunatics.

Over the past few months, radical feminists and social justice warriors have made bomb threats against people and organizations they deem to be "offensive," including Protein World and #Gamergate supporters.

Williams was preceded by James J. Lee, the gunman who entered the Discovery Communications building in Silver Spring, Maryland back in 2010. Strapped with explosives, Lee took three hostages before being gunned down by police.

His motivation for the attempted attack was a grievance over the Discovery channel not airing enough programs about global warming. Lee was radicalized by Al Gore's climate change film An Inconvenient Truth.

In August 2012, Floyd Corkins entered the Washington office of the conservative Family Research Council, intent on carrying out a massacre. He was thankfully shot and disarmed by building manager Leo Johnson before he could do so. Corkins was angered by the organization's stance on gay marriage and used a Southern Poverty Law Center map to locate the address.

Corkins was carrying a Chick-fil-A sandwiches during the attempted attack, a reference to the president of Chick-fil-A making statements against gay marriage, which was a big news story at the time.

This week's tragic shooting illustrates how society's obsession with being offended, fueled by perpetually outraged Twitter mobs, is now actually producing violent nutcases who are acting out on their radical impulses and killing people in the name of political correctness.

Ugh, I could only read five comments into this discussion before growing tired It is not about "fucking people who ask for facts" as you so state It is that many times, white, heteronormative, cisgendered, middle-to-upper-class persons confuse "facts" with "hegemonic presentation of information by entities they deem to be authoritative."

The drugs (and the booze) are there to distract people from realizing their jobs are pointless.

Graeber's argument is similar to one he made in a 2013 article called "On the Phenomenon of Bullshit Jobs", in which he argued that, in 1930, economist John Maynard Keynes predicted that by the end of the century technology would have advanced sufficiently that in countries such as the UK and the US we'd be on 15 hour weeks. "In technological terms, we are quite capable of this And yet it didn't happen Instead, technology has been marshalled, if anything, to figure out ways to make us all work more Huge swaths of people, in Europe and North America in particular, spend their entire working lives performing tasks they believe to be unnecessary The moral and spiritual damage that comes from this situation is profound. It is a scar across our collective soul. Yet virtually no one talks about it."

But what happened between the Apollo moon landing and now? Graeber's theory is that in the late 1960s and early 1970s there was mounting fear about a society of hippie proles with too much time on their hands. "The ruling class had a freak out about robots replacing all the workers. There was a general feeling that 'My God, if it's bad now with the hippies, imagine what it ll be like if the entire working class becomes unemployed ' You never know how conscious it was but decisions were made about research priorities." Consider, he suggests, medicine and the life sciences since the late 1960s "Cancer? No, that's still here " Instead, the most dramatic

Even its founder admits Tumblr is full of ugly, sexually repressed, joyless, fun hating, man hating feminists.

If I could go back and do it all over again, I would do a lot of things differently. I'm all for free speech, but I wanted my site to be a place to share fresh, bold ideas about the world. Instead, it's become a place for angry, sexually repressed women to complain about men like me. I gave them the tool to complain, which I guess is the tragic part. Everyone knows the old Oppenheimer quote 'I am become death, destroyer of worlds'. Well, tumblr's slogan at this point should be 'I am become angst, destroyer of fun' (laughter).

Hillary Clinton Put on Southern Accent for South Carolina Democratic Chairman

So we ranked it

Share 44 Tweet 45 Share 118 Send to Kindle

Hillary Clinton recently sat down for a "Chair Chat" with the chairman of the South Carolina Democratic party, Jaime Harrison. During the interview, as in many of her speeches to people who live in the South, she put on a Southern accent that is absent from her speeches to Northerners.

We made a mashup of some of the most painfully pandering moments, and ranked the intensity of her accent with cowboy boots. 1 = lowest, 5 = strongest Rabidly right-wing Christians share many of the same beliefs as ISIS.

@PrsonPianet

Fo ow

How many more gay people will have to be thrown off buildings? Hopefully all of them. The one and only thing that ISIS does right is executing those filthy walking AIDS and STD vessels and vile perverts. Of course they had to steal it from the perfect law of the bible, but hopefully that's one group they keep going after and lay off everyone else.

If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall SURELY be put to death; their blood shall be upon them. (leviticus 20:13)

Slaves wanting to escape was once defined as a mental disorder. What's today's equivalent?

Drapetomania – The mental illness that caused slaves to run away

In the 19th Century the American physician [illegible] described a curious mental disorder called drapetomania, it reportedly only affected black slaves and caused them to run away from their owners

> The cause in the most of cases that induces the negro to run away from service is as much a disease of the mind as any other species of mental alienation and much more curable as a general rule with the advantage of proper medical advice strictly followed. This troublesome practice that many negroes have of running away can be almost entirely prevented although the slaves be located on the borders of a free state within a stone's throw of the abolitionists

It's "animal abuse" to refer to your male cat as male. #TumblrPosts

> Just a friendly reminder that u should call ur animals by gender neutral or multiple pronouns They CAN understand you and YES it's possible for an animal to be trans Your cat having a penis does not make it male It's straight up animal abuse to deliberately misgender your pets so please do not do it

12 reasons why we don't need feminism in the U.S. #Fem[illegible]n[illegible]sm[illegible]sAwf[illegible]l

Anonymous[illegible]

can you please give me 5 real reason on why we don't need feminism in the U.S

1. No wage gap (X-X)
2. Rape is illegal and the one in 4 statistic is false (X)
3. No rape culture (X-X)
4. Women can vote
5. Women can drive
6. Women can do what they want without a man
7. The "women do half the work and own less than 1% of the worlds" stat is total bullshit (X)(X)
8. Women have five more rights than men (X)
    - The right to genital integrity
    - The right to vote without having to sign up for the draft
    - To choose whether or not they are ready to be a parent
    - The right to be assumed caregivers for children and get all the benefits from it
    - The right to call unwanted sex rape while under definition of the law men cant be raped"
9. Women serve less jail time than men for the same crime (X)(X)(X)
10. False rape accusations are high and women who make them are not being properly punished (X)
11. Men have more issues than women and feminists are making them worse or claiming they dont exis
12. Misandrists head the movement (X)

Any of my followers care to elaborate more?

Concerned about helpless animals but not helpless babies? Some sense from the LA Times - lat mes.com/opinion/op-ed/ ...

These kinds of reactions are a huge missed opportunity. The confluence of these two stories, instead of creating even more right-left polarization, could actually work in the opposite direction. They are an opportunity for understanding and even a new ethic.

> The moral dispositions and motivations of animal rights and anti-abortion activists are actually quite similar.

SHARE THIS QUOTE

Consider the views of those who care deeply about animal rights. What drives them? Animals are helpless creatures often subject to terrible violence and they cannot speak for themselves. Their struggles and suffering are quite inconvenient for those who want to exploit them and their needs are pushed to the margins of our culture. Indeed, we are rarely forced to confront the dignity of animals, especially animals we eat. This is what drives the passion of activists in their attempts to speak for voiceless animals. And it is their zeal to bring us face to face with animal suffering, through undercover videos. These videos have been quite successful in bringing some terrible realities to light, for example, the conditions of chickens in the worst factory farms.

Anti-abortion activists are driven by similar ways. Premature fetuses are also helpless and often subject to terrible violence. They obviously cannot speak for themselves. Their dignity and value are inconvenient for those who want abortion to be broadly legal and who want to use fetal tissue for research. They too are largely invisible, though this is changing because of ultrasound imagery and smartphone applications that can access real-time heartbeats. Words like "fetus," "tissue" and "products of conception" help keep the reality of abortion at bay. But as we have now seen with the Planned Parenthood videos, undercover videos have also been successful in using terrible realities to light — what in one setting is called the "products of conception" in another is a "baby bump," and the antiseptic "tissue" means functioning organs.

mean, what have white people ever given the world?!

Excluding the industrial revolution, modern medicine, the scientific method, planes, trains, automobiles, physics, chemistry, biology, mathematics, cartography, philosophy, universities, space exploration, liberalism, secularism, rationalism, civil society, democracy, the rule of law, the globe's lingua franca, literature, classical music, sculpture, art, all the world's major architectural movements, oh and global prosperity and trade)

This explains why feminists are so ugly.

If a person has ugly thoughts it begins to show on the face. And when that person has ugly thoughts every day, every week, every year, the face gets uglier and uglier until it gets so ugly you can hardly bear to look at it.

A person who has good thoughts cannot ever be ugly. You can have a wonky nose and a crooked mouth and a double chin and stick out teeth, but if you have good thoughts they will shine out of your face like sunbeams and you will always look lovely.

Banks telling 3rd parties when you physically visited? Creepy AF.

Mike
watson-paul@sky.com; writers@infowars.com

Hello

I use the Halifax bank in the UK

On the 27th July 2015 in the evening, I received a call from a company wanting to do a survey on behalf of the Halifax bank.

A company called Network Research (tel: UK 0800 fluff 50x5)

My eyes glazed over and of course like most people I am reluctant to speak about any bank details from a cold call so therefore I refused.

This company stated the Halifax bank had told them I had been in the bank the previous Friday and they would like my feedback. This was in fact true. I had been on that day.

Firstly I have a problem with a bank telling any third party company my information especially regarding my comings and goings.

Secondly I only used the cash dispenser at the bank and did not speak to ever one person.
Therefore it seems to me at least that my use of a machine was relayed to this third party company which can only described as a form of tracking.

Whatever.

@AskHalifaxBank Can you confirm whether or not this is true and if so why is such information being passed on?

Mike
watson-paul5@sky.com [illegible]@infowars.com

Hello

I use the Halifax bank in the UK

On the 27th July 2015 in the evening, I received a call from a company wanting to do a survey on behalf of the Halifax bank.

A company called Network Research on 0800 [illegible]5015)

My eyes glazed over and of course like most people I am reluctant to speak about any bank details from a cold call so therefore I refused.

This company stated the Halifax bank had told them I had been in the bank the previous Friday and they would like my feedback.
This was in fact true, I had been on that day.

Firstly I have a problem with a bank telling any third party company my information especially regarding my comings and goings.

Secondly I only used the cash dispenser at the bank and did not speak to ever one person.
Therefore it seems to me at least that my use of a machine was relayed to this third party company which can only described as a form of tracking.

Thanks.

Apparently, it's illegal for black people in America to get married.

1 hr •

It's crazy to me how gay marriage is now legal in all 50 states.
Blacks have been fighting for over a 100 years and we still don't have the same rights and aren't treated fairly ijs something 2 think about.

Bath tubs are oppressing fatties.

feminist-antifatactivist Follow

Thin privilege is not having to spend extra money on buying a bathtub you'll fit in

One of my only joys in life is a relaxing bubble bath where I can submerge my whole body and just soak for an hour or so. My husband and I are remodeling our vacation home's master bathroom, which includes a new tub. However, I am horrified to find that extra large tubs, the only kind that are large enough to submerge my whole body under, cost thousands more than regular sized tubs. Thin people will never understand the pain of going over-budget to indulge in the few things that make you happy at the cost of your dignity.

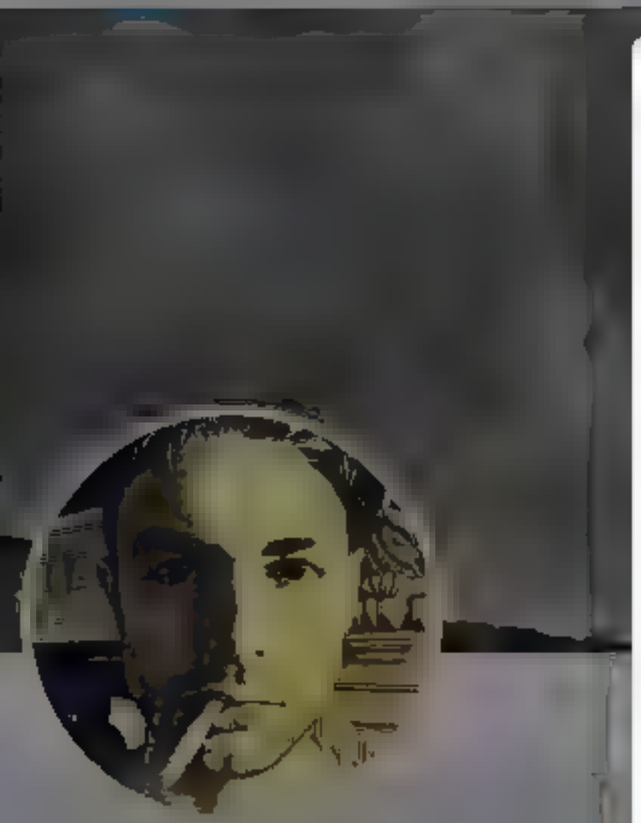
Saying scientific polls are wrong because you "don't believe" them isn't an argument. ICM: 9% of Brits support ISIS.



Pollsters ICM found that opposition to IS has hardened during twelve months of barbaric atrocities, with 80% of British people now having a "very unfavourable" view of them compared with 45% last July.

But, staggeringly, the poll of 2,016 British adults taken over the weekend also found that support for the terror group was up by 2%, to 9%.

Leftists can no longer claim aborted babies are just 'clumps of cells'.

tneblaze.com/contr butions/

1) "It's just a clump of cells!"

See also blob of cells lump of cells ball of cells globule of cells etc This has been perhaps the favorite line of the pro-aborts for quite some time but now it is no longer available to them They have forfeited it it's gone Goodbye

The fact that body pa ts a e being donated clearly ndicates that the child has a body with pa ts It is not a blob nor a lump nor a ball nor a clump It's a body With o gans And limbs A body A body that is living A body belonging to a mem ber of the human species A body that must be caused to stop living through a method that is commonly referred to as killing

Hi, I'm Greg. I identify as a CIS male, human-kin, omnivore, and my sexual orientation is heterosexual. My pronouns are he, him and sometimes they (for example if you're referring to me and my buddies). My triggers are being punched in the face, being shot, or any other sort of physical harm done to me for no reason. On my blog I WILL tolerate most forms of free speech and if you try to offend or poke fun at me, I won't hesitate to just laugh it off vice.com/read/in-defens ...

To put it another way, Rand recognized that politics is downstream from culture. So she went for the jugular as an author and philosopher, rather than fannying about treating the symptoms as a journalist or political commentator. Ideal is a fascinating early glimpse into how that realization began to take root in her mind.

Ayn Rand's great achievement, from a conservative point of view, present in embryonic form in Ideal, was to recognize that the battle for man's soul would be fought in the studios of Hollywood, the newsrooms of New York, and the lecture halls of Massachusetts, not in the stultifying round tables of Washington DC. It's a lesson the GOP has yet to learn.

Feminists are so secure in their ideology, they need to put words in the mouths of small children to parrot it.

"I need feminism because my mom hopes I grow up to realize my privilege and unafraid to speak out against inequality"

If a fat woman wants to have sex with you... HAVE SEX WITH HER

Listen up men: If a fat woman approaches you and wants to have sex with you, YOU HAVE SEX WITH HER. No ifs ands or buts about it. First of all, you should be fucking honored as shit to have the opportunity to have sex with a big beautiful goddess.

More importantly, you have to oblige as she says because if you say no, you are actively oppressing her with your bullshit ridiculous standards of beauty and lets face it, what YOU think is beautiful doesn't matter because she can be as fat as she wants. It's HER body, not yours.

By oppressing her with your fatphobic bullshit though, you are likely going to be triggering her and are thus violating her and her identity and by violating her so viciously like that, you are in fact, committing rape.

#fat pride #fatphobia #rape culture #social justice #fat acceptance

Your morning dose of tumblr insanity.

Lauren [redacted]

[illegible] 14 hours

I go by so many names, it's ridiculous.

Lauren O'Hara is my pen name
Larry O'Harry is my male name when I'm more into girls, and Lars O'Hars is my male name when I'm more into boys.
Lola Waters is my bigendered name, and Lola Love LeCross is my sexual persona.
Livi Lamplighter is my genderqueer/"true" name
Laz Arah O is my neutrois name

And don't even get me started on the personae/fursonae I tend to adopt for various different reasons.

I should probably just stick with "Livi" to make things easier on everyone

Can you make a male baby sitter pay child support?

I'm a single mom going to college with my sister A couple weeks ago I asked my neighbor a nice guy if he could watch the kids for two hours while I went to class and my s ster wasn't home and he agreed If he babysits and doesn't accept pay can sue him for child support because he took on a fatherly role?? I'm sure I can convince a court that he accepted a fatherly role which is how who owes child support is determined in my state

Being attracted to only blondes is akin to being a Nazi.

Boy: I'm only attracted to blonde people.

Me: Cool roundabout way of saying you only deem Hitler's chosen people as worthy. If I trick you into saying your own name backwards will you be sent back to the hell dimension you are from?

Telling this girl she is not in a coma is ableist.

i feel so weird when i see posts with people sayinf "you're not in a coma you're alive" etc etc. like, if i was wouldnt that be what my brain is telling me. also how would a stranger on tumblr know i'm NOT in a coma. and anyway who are they to come over and tell me i'm not all first person and such. do they know me. do they know who i am. who are you. where are you. what are you doing in my wrld telling me anything about my life.

Reasons why women are anti-feminism.

Reasons why women are anti-feminism

- the refusal to address the problems within feminism
- feminists bullying and insulting people for not being feminists
- the improper use terms like "patriarchy" and "rape culture" therefore trivializing the struggles of women who actually live in patriarchies and rape cultures
- the spreading of myths and lies (the wage gap, 1 in 3 women are raped etc
- "but sexist racist homophobic transphobic feminists are not REAL feminists !!!"
- focusing on useless first world problems like the anti manspreading or the "ban bossy" campaign
- victimization of women
- ignoring the reasons why women disagree with feminism, so bringing on a biased, non-intersectional feminism that only helps who agrees with you

NOT reasons why women are anti-feminism

- we are against equality
- "you don't know what feminism is"
- we want to be considered cool by guys

Islamic violence is rooted in the foundational texts of Islam itself.

Introduction · 3

the Qur'an as well as the life and teachings of the Prophet Muhammad contained in the hadith

Let me make my point in the simplest possible terms. Islam is not a religion of peace

For expressing the idea that Islamic violence is rooted not in social, economic, or political conditions—or even in theological error—but rather in the foundational texts of Islam itself, I have been denounced as a bigot and an "Islamophobe." I have been silenced, shunned, and shamed In effect, I have been deemed to be a heretic, not just by Muslims—for whom I am already an apostate—but by some Western liberals as well, whose multicultural sensibilities are offended by such "insensitive" pronouncements.

of our progress, such as the equality of women. Needless to say I am not speaking against the equality of women; but the positive aspects of this tendency for equality must not deceive one. It is part of the trend towards the elimination of differences. Equality is bought at this very price: women are equal because they are not different any more. The proposition of Enlightenment philosophy, l'âme n'a pas de sexe, the soul has no sex, has become the general practice. The polarity of the sexes is disappearing, and with it erotic love, which is based on this polarity. Men and women become the same, not equals as opposite poles. Contemporary society preaches this ideal of unindividualised equality because it needs human atoms, each one the same, to make them function in a mass aggregation, smoothly, without friction, all obeying the same commands, yet everybody

So the New York Times and the Washington Post don't deem it newsworthy that 100+ of the most powerful people on the planet are meeting in secret surrounded by a gigantic phalanx of armed police and checkpoints. Not a single report. Not a single mainstream journalist at Bilderberg 2015 from BBC. ABC. CNN. Fox News. NOTHING

#TPP Emails Show CEO Joked About Making "Royalty Payment" to US Officials - nfowars com/tpp-emails-sho ... #tppfasttrack

From: Weisel, Barbara
Sent: Friday, January 22, 2010 9:27 AM
To: Jim DeUst
Subject: RE: TPP Rules of Origin

Well there's a bit of good news to end the week. Thanks

From: Jim DeUst [mailto:[redacted]@fenwoodchemical.com]
Sent: Friday, January 22, 2010 9:26 AM
To: Weisel, Barbara
Cc: Brown, Virginia L.; Kim Copperthite; Max Turnipseed; John Meakem
Subject: TPP Rules of Origin

Hi Barbara. John sent through a link to the P4 agreement. I have taken a quick look at the rules of origin. Someone owes USTR a 'royalty payment'. These are our rules. They will need some tweaking, but will likely not need major surgery. This is a very pleasant surprise. I will study more closely over the weekend.

Best Regards,

@BlueRidgeCh ck Read the article before commenting.

The actor's political views are no secret. He has appeared at numerous libertarian events and supported Republican candidate Ron Paul during his 2008 and 2012 presidential campaigns.

However, the huge publicity generated by his comments (the story almost immediately began trending on Twitter), will send a clear signal to the libera. mafia that runs Hollywood and Vaughn s opportunities will be heavily restricted from now on.

Conservatives in Hollywood are so heavily discriminated against that they are forced to go underground and even have secret meetings. Not identifying as a liberal in the movie industry is a potential career killer.

"In LA, there is a secret, underground group of showbiz conservatives," Victoria Jackson, a former Saturday Night Live cast member, told the Huffington Post. "It started with two people in 2000. I was at the fifth or tenth meeting, and now there are over 2,000 people. The only ones out of the closet are Jon Voight and Pat Boone. There are famous people in there, but they don't want to lose their career -- and conservatives are blacklisted."

The inherent bias against anyone who dares to deviate from the Democrat orthodoxy virtually ended the career of James Woods, who in 2013 said he never expected to work again as a result of his vocal criticism of Barack Obama.

Back in April, liberal reporter Krishnan Guru-Murthy also tried to "conservative shame" Robert Downey Jr by repeatedly asking him if he was a liberal (Downey Jr. is widely suspected to lean conservative libertarian).

#CnuckJohnson on his Twitter suspension.

Update 4:30 p.m. PT: Johnson reached out to Re/code via email to comment on the suspension:

> Twitter has a problem with controversial thoughts and has opted for censorship.
> I was speaking metaphorically about exposing DeRay in much the same way Slate was speaking metaphorically when they talked about "taking out" a Supreme Court justice.

Peter King Accuses Rand Paul of 'Spreading Fear' With Patriot Act Filibuster - nfowars.com/peter-king-acc...

Paul Joseph Watson
[illegible]

Peter King is the Congressman from hell. It's as if Satan himself personally dispatched King to earth with orders to radiate perpetual evil.

Normally a representative on either the left or the right will advocate at least some pro-liberty policies, even if you disagree with most of what they say.

King is devoid of any redeeming qualities whatsoever. He's neither a liberal nor a conservative, but a kind of weird hybrid which combines the very worst aspects of both - the quintessential RINO. If John McCain and Lindsey Graham were cloned and combined in some nightmarish scientific experiment, Peter King would be the result.

Pro-war, pro-spying, pro Patriot Act, pro drone strikes, pro-banker bailout, King was even endorsed twice by the pro-gun control Brady Campaign.

King has virtually no conservative principles at all, and yet has somehow been masquerading as a Republican Congressman for over two decades.

Thank God people like Rand Paul exist to remind us what true conservatism is supposed to stand for. http://www.infowars.com/peter-king-accuses-rand-paul-of-sp...

#WhitePrivilege

2. White Privilege

A convenient excuse explaining why white men typically outperform others without admitting that this usual occurrence is due to anything more than a mysterious, unprovable, massive conspiracy. Oddly enough, "white privilege" does not apply to Asians, who outperform white men in certain areas.

You've missed the point. This will help.

> [93] This compelling analysis of the necessity for Human Rights and Equality jurisprudence articulates all I could have hoped to say albeit not so fluently to demonstrate that the law must protect all. It must protect the rights of the Defendants to have and to manifest their religious beliefs but it also recognizes that the rights of the Plaintiff not to be discriminated because of his sexual orientation must also be protected.
> If the Plaintiff was a gay man who ran a bakery business and the Defendants as Christians wanted him to bake a cake with the words "support heterosexual marriage" the Plaintiff would be required to do so as, otherwise, he would, according to the law be discriminating against the Defendants. This is not a law which is for one belief only but is equal to and for all.
> The Defendants are entitled to continue to hold their genuine and deeply held religious beliefs and to manifest them but, in accordance with the law, not to manifest them in the commercial sphere if it is contrary to the rights of others.

Behold, a woman who actually values children and companionship. There's hope yet. youtube.com/watch?v=3qHnlp .

Laura Mareos

This is absolutely 100% right. I met my husband 10 years ago when I was 20, since the beginning of the relationship I made it clear I wanted a serious relationship, all my girlfriends thought I was crazy "how can you not wanna sleep around with so many other guys to choose from?" At 23 we got married and at 25 we had our daughter, again our friends thought we were insane getting married and having a baby

I graduated from college at 25 and got a great job when I found out I was pregnant I quit my job to stay at home and raise my child and everyone except for my mom thinks we are crazy leaving on one income. The reality is that my husband is a great provider dad and we have a great healthy relationship. I need him more than anything now, and that makes him more attractive. I am happy where I am, get to be with my daughter, still have time to work out and do all the things like we eat healthier because I cook all the time we actually save money in gas, daycare, food everything. Most of my girlfriend today are 30 and single and quite desperate!

'Ban cash and force everyone to have credit controlled by a government-run bank.' How about fuck you instead?

How to end boom and bust: make cash illegal

Comment Forcing everyone to spend only by electronic means from an account held at a government-run bank would give the authorities far better tools to deal with recessions and economic booms, writes Jim Leaviss

Cameron is gonna 'tackle extremism' (after supporting actual jihadists in Libya & Syria). This is a chilling quote...

> For too long, we have been a passively tolerant society, saying to our citizens: as long as you obey the law, we will leave you alone. It's often meant we have stood neutral between different values. And that's helped foster a narrative of extremism and grievance. This Government will conclusively turn the page on this failed approach.

This is about radical Islamists, but it could just as easily apply to radical feminists.

the same time feels entitled to rule out free discussion.

One of the fiercest critics of my course was a female Sudanese student. Despite never actually attending a single session of the study group, she was completely convinced that everything being said in the classroom was a serious affront to Islam. She was one of a number of Muslim students who lobbied the Kennedy School authorities to have my study group terminated. When one of my colleagues made the point that academic freedom—the freedom to teach and learn about viewpoints and ideas that are fundamentally at odds with others' beliefs—is the cornerstone of the Western university she reacted with perplexed hostility. Academic freedom was a concept that seemed to her deplorable if it permitted any questioning of her faith.

To understand this hostility, it is important to recognize

> Of course, many ordinary folk not engrossed in the Guardian's comment pages or Twitter won't articulate their frustration with Labour that way. But they do see a party that no longer speaks their language or protects their interests – and they vote Ukip instead, tired of being told that their understandable concern about gargantuan immigration is "racist."
> That's what Labour and the Left wing press do, after all: call people names instead of doing the hard work of rebuttal and research. When Labour leaders looks out at a country stubbornly refusing to elect them, they don't seem to recognise their failure to relate to people, or to define themselves properly, as the problem. Instead, they see a country full of racist, homophobic, xenophobic bigots who would of course buy into grievance culture and identity politics if only they were sufficiently educated.

whose multicultural sensibilities are offended by such "[illegible]sitive" pronouncements.

My uncompromising statements on this topic have incited such vehement denunciations that one would think I had committed a[illegible] act of violence myself. For today, it seems, speaking the truth about Islam is a crime. "Hate speech" is the modern term for heresy. And in the present atmosphere, anything that makes Muslims feel uncomfortable is branded as "hate."

In these pages, it is my intention to make many people—not only Muslims but also Western apologists for Islam—uncomfortable. I am not going to do this by drawing cartoons. Rather, I intend to challenge centuries of religious orthodoxy with ideas and arguments that I am certain will be denounced as heretical. My argument is for nothing less than a Muslim Reformation. This.

Let me make my point in the simplest possible terms: Islam and a religion of peace

For expressing the idea that Islamic violence is rooted not in social, economic or political conditions or even in theological error—but rather in the foundational texts of Islam itself—I have been denounced as a bigot and an "Islamophobe." I have been silenced, shunned, and shamed. In effect, I have been deemed to be a heretic, not just by Muslims—for whom I am already an apostate—but by some Western liberals as well whose multicultural sensibilities are offended by such "insensitive" pronouncements.

My uncompromising statements on this topic have incited such vehement denunciations that one would think I had committed an act of violence myself. For today, it seems, speaking the truth about Islam is a crime. "Hate speech" is the modern term for heresy. And in the present atmosphere, anything that makes Muslims feel uncomfortable is branded as "hate."

"RAC ST" FACT Despite mak ng up ust 13% of the popu ation, blacks commit around half of homicides n the United States

"RAC ST" FACT Blacks commit eight times more crimes aga nst whites than vice-versa

"RAC ST" FACT Between 1999 and 2011, 2 151 WH TES died as a resu t of being shot by police compared to 1 130 BLACKS

"RAC ST" FACT n 2013, black criminals carried out 38% of murders compared to 31 1% for whites, despite the fact that there are five times more white people in the U S

Black people n the United States are more likely to be victims of violent confrontations with police officers than whites because they commit more violent crimes than whites per capita

Police brutality target ng blacks wi not subside unt this becomes part of the nationa conversat on > everyone knew it could ... and that kind of blasphemy is precisely the kind that needs to be defended, because it's the kind that clearly serves a free society's greater good. If a large enough group of someones is willing to kill you for saying something, then it's something that almost certainly needs to be said, because otherwise the violent have veto power over liberal civilization, and when that scenario obtains it isn't really a liberal civilization any more. Again, liberalism doesn't depend on everyone offending everyone else all the time, and it's okay to prefer a society where offense for its own sake is limited rather than pervasive. But when offenses are policed by murder, that's when we need more of them, not less, because

March 6, 2015 56 Comments

by: Michael Stone

Saudi shame: A 19-year-old woman who was the victim of a violent gang rape in Saudi Arabia has been sentenced to 200 lashes and six months in jail after being found guilty of being "indecent" at the time of the attack because she was not accompanied by a male guardian.

The government defended the outrageous court decision, saying that outrageous court decision saying that the victim was at fault and noting that Saudi courts abide by Sharia law which dictates that a woman not be in public without a male guardian.

The original incident reportedly took place in 2006. At that time the victim was in a car with a friend when two men commandeered their vehicle and drove them to a secluded area. She was then violently raped by seven men three of whom also attacked her friend.

Initially the woman was sentenced to 90 lashes while the men who raped her were given minor custodial sentences.

The obviously unfair verdict was appealed by the woman's lawyer. However instead of overturning the punishment the court reportedly more than doubled the punishment for the woman sentencing her to 200 lashes and six months in jail after being found guilty of indecency and talking to the media.

Middle East Monitor reports Abdul Rahman Al-Lahem who defended the woman reached out to the media after

Great comment on my video regarding fat shaming. youtube.com/watch?v=wXXERL. #fatshaming

Mikeyberts · 2d ago
Here's my thoughts as a fat bloke

I'm fat. I've always been fat. been eating chocolate and chips since I was fucking 4 mate. I've grown up never being thin. I've been bullied. found sports hard etc. but guess what? I started a diet 5 months ago and have lost 17 kilos! and while I'm still pretty damn fat. I feel a lot better and some people have taken notice.

Obesity isn't glamorous. it isn't beautiful. it's destructive. it's unhealthy. those fat models the feminists use? they sweat while eating, have trouble breathing while they sleep. can't walk a kilometer before needing to sit down and drink a can of fucking coke.

Obesity isn't glamorous. or beautiful. or healthy. as much as feminists want to force men to see obesity as beautiful. we never will. in ancient times there were paintings of fat women. why? because it was a sign of status. of influence. that they could be fat while most people starved. they never painted fat women because they thought an obese woman was "beautiful" get on a diet. you don't need to do it for me or for anyone else. but do it for yourself. for gods sake! have some self respect and pride in yourself for once in your fucking lives.

Anyone who ignores this connection to the #Ba timoreRiots is being willfully naive.

The black population in the United States is 13% Subtract women children and the elderly and that leaves young black males

Here are the outrageous facts Black males aged 15-34 are only 3% of the total JS population and almost half of all murders are committed by this 3 % of the population

According to 2012 FBI cr me statist cs, they are responsible for 54 9% of a Robbery
49 4% of a Murders
34 1% of a Aggravated Assaults
32 5% of Forc ble Rapes

jeremy.clarkson@the-sun.co.uk

I DISTINCTLY remember that after Colonel Gaddafi was ousted from office and killed, Western leaders rejoiced, saying that, thanks to our help and our air strikes Libya would now be freed from tyranny and oppression.

Really? Because now they are executing people on the internet for having the wrong sort of God. And then there's Syria.

Who are we bombing there exactly? Government forces who are fighting for a wicked tyrant? Or the people who think they can topple him? By setting people alight.

And eating them.

Still, at least everything went well after we intervened in Afghanistan and Iraq

No wonder military morale is so low

If these cadets· or men in general· feel the overwhelming need to partic·pate in something like this· have at it · o each their own· I personally disagree with it· but ·hat's me· A man doesn·t need to emasculate himself by prancing around in red high heels to ac·knowledge· sensibly discuss and take a stand against sex·al violence agains· women

But to be forced into partic·pation crosses the line· Quite frankly· the ROTC forcing its cadets to do this· or else!· is public emasc·ulation as a result of polit·cal correctness

Recognizing social ·auses is one thing but ·oercion goes too far· How exac·ly does forcing members of ·he ROTC to partic·pate in this· parti·ular event help them fight the real and present evils that are growing in strength across the globe? ·mages of men in ·uniform· wobbling around in high heels sends exac·ly the wrong message to evil ac·tors in Iran· Russia· and various other parts of the Middle East

The military being ·sed as s·me left·st social experiment will have damaging reperc·ussions in the near future

Brazen admission of how govt. works with entertainment corps & celebrities to push its agenda. infowars com/u-s-recru ted- ..

An email from Richard Stengel, U'S State Department under secretary for public diplomacy and public affairs, reveals how the government enlisted Sony and other entertainment corporations in the propaganda war against ISIS and Russia

> Michael: It was great to see you yesterday. As you could see, we have plenty of challenges in countering ISIL narratives in the Middle East and Russian narratives in central and eastern Europe. In both cases, there are millions and millions of people in those regions who are getting a skewed version of reality. And it's not something that the State Department can do on its own by (sic) any means. Following up on our conversation. I'd love to convene a group of media executives who can help us think about better ways to respond to both of these large challenges. This is a conversation about ideas, about content and production, about commercial possibilities. I promise you, it will be interesting, fun, and rewarding. Best, Rick

Michael Lynton responded to this email by sending Stengel a list of names including Andy Bird, chairman of Walt Disney International, former Turner Broadcasting CEO Phil Kent, past Century Fox COO James Murdoch, and Drew Gulf, a founding partner of private equity investment firm Siguler Guff

Another email from a staffer to Jane Hartley, the US ambassador to France, shows how the government intends to exploit the celebrity of actors to push its foreign policy objectives

> We have already started to think through ways your superstars could potentially help amplify some of the great work US Embassy Paris is doing," the staffer wrote, reports Motherboard. "We'd love to include Sony names in events here, either as guests or performers, and would love the opportunity to leverage their popularity to promote the President's priorities and agenda overseas."

AN arts twat claims to have curated a cup of tea by adding milk and sugar 35 year old visual artist Stephen Marley said "The tea making process is an ongoing dialogue between water, milk and tea that requires careful curation.

"I took being thirsty as my starting point then I began to construct a response based around a mug.

"Overall I curated the hell out of this hot drink. Can I have some grant money or a telly interview please?"

Fellow paint splattered dickhead Mary Fisher said "I've just finished

[redacted] Police Apology

[redacted] Emergency Management [redacted] 4:31 AM · 4 hours ago

A message from [redacted]

To the [redacted] Community,

On behalf of the [redacted] Police Department, I want to apologize for what many considered a racially insensitive description included in one of the alerts last night. We give our staff a great deal of latitude in crafting emergency messages because safety often depends on timeliness. Sometimes that means just repeating descriptions provided to us, as we did in this case. However, we know our community and should be able to filter information in a way that reflects our values but still provides the information you need to stay safe. One of our core values is Accountability, and, ultimately I am the head of this agency and I am accountable for the actions of those who serve you at the Police Department. For that reason, I apologize to those who were offended. We can do better, and we will.

Look at the @guardian doubling down on the #JVAHoax by ensuring these SJW comments appear at the top.

Guardian Pick

Clearly there's some wrongdoing going on. I think it's understandable in the context even if some think some people are playing it on a bit thick.

It is possible that a rape took place but Jackie was raped the crime that took place bears very little resemblance to the story she subsequently told. None of the surrounding facts that she attempts to lay down can be verified and many can be shown to be false. We are left with the claim that a r

Feminist: If men didn't play video games, they'd just be out raping women all day.

lil-purrfect-femme FOLLOW

I heard this the other day and it's pretty accurate

The reason guys play video games all the time is because it is stimulating enough and holds a lot of cognitive attention to distract men from rape urges. It takes the "thrill" away for a while so they can control their testosterone and urge to rape.

When a reporter for the United States Army Training and Doctrine Command interviewed Frank Zappa for the Command's news syndicate, the story was held by a superior who demanded that Zappa—who had been rather hard on the Army—answer one more question. just who does he think will defend the country without the Army?

Zappa's reply "From what? The biggest threat to America today is its own federal government Will the Army protect anybody from the FBI? The IRS? The CIA? The Republican party? The Democratic party? The biggest dangers we face today don't even need to sneak past our billion dollar defense system they issue the contracts for them"

The interview was not run

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of the Press Secretary

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
March 25, 2015

unlike in Ukraine

Statement by NSC Spokesperson Bernadette Meehan on the Situation in Yemen

The United States strongly condemns ongoing military actions taken by the Houthis against the elected government of Yemen. These actions have caused widespread instability and chaos that threaten the safety and well-being of all Yemeni citizens

unlike in Ukraine

The United States has been in close contact with President Had. and our regional partners. In response to the deteriorating security situation, Saudi Arabia, Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) members, and others will undertake military action to defend Saudi Arabia's border and to protect Yemen's legitimate government. As announced by GCC members earlier tonight, they are taking this action at the request of Yemeni President Abdo Rabbo Mansour Had.

The United States coordinates closely with Saudi Arabia and our GCC partners on issues related to their security and our shared interests. In support of GCC actions to defend against Houthi violence, President Obama has authorized the provision of logistical and intelligence support to GCC-led military operations. While U.S. forces are not taking direct military action in Yemen in support of this effort, we are establishing a Joint Planning Cell with Saudi Arabia to coordinate U.S. military and intelligence support

At the same time, the United States continues to closely monitor terrorist threats posed by al-Qa'ida in the Arabian Peninsula and will continue to take action as necessary to disrupt continuing, imminent threats to the United States and our citizens

We strongly urge the Houthis to halt immediately their destabilizing military actions and return to negotiations as part of the political dialogue. The international community has spoken clearly through the UN Security Council and in other fora that the violent takeover of Yemen by an armed faction is unacceptable and that a legitimate political transition – long sought by the Yemeni people – can be accomplished only through political negotiations and a consensus agreement among all of the parties.

...socialism—and those of ... prehistorical tyranny. Socialism is merely democratic absolute monarchy—that is, a system of absolutism without a fixed head, open to seizure of power by all comers, by any ruthless climber, opportunist, adventurer, demagogue or thug

When you consider socialism, do not fool yourself about its nature. Remember that there is no such dichotomy as "human rights" versus "property rights." No human rights can exist without property rights. Since material goods are produced by the mind and effort of individual men, and are needed to sustain their lives, if the producer does not own the result of his effort, he does not own his life. To deny property rights means to turn men into property owned by the state. Whoever claims the "right" to "redistribute" the wealth produced by others is claiming the "right" to treat human beings as chattel.

When you consider the global devastation perpetrated by Politically incorrect facts about how Islam treats women. Tumbleweeds from feminists.

According to the World Economic Forum's "Global Gender Gap" report, 19 of the 20 countries with the lowest scores were Islamic majority countries. Yemen, which has a Muslim population of 99%, was ranked the worst.

Islamic countries are also disproportionately represented when it comes to the problem of female genital mutilation (FGM), with FMG rates being the highest (98 per cent) in Somalia, where 98.6% of the population is Muslim. The other countries include Djibouti (93), Egypt (91), Guinea (96), Mali (89), Eritrea (89), Sierra Leone (88) and Sudan (88), all of which have significant majority Muslim populations aside from Eritrea.

Four of the top five countries with the highest rates of under-18 marriages are also members of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC), the bloc of Muslim-majority nations.

The report also failed to mention the rape epidemic sweeping Europe, which is primarily being driven by Muslim immigrants who see women as second class citizens.

The report once again highlights the stunning hypocrisy of global institutions and feminist organizations who continually castigate the western 'patriarchy' for oppressing women while completely ignoring actual oppression of women in Islamic countries simply to avoid being labeled politically incorrect.

I agree with @Mark[illegible]Dance - we need gender equality in the workplace NOW. #HappyInternationalWomensDay

> Mark Dice [illegible]
> I agree with the feminists that there's too much sexism in the work force. We need more women to become bricklayers, tree trimmers, and to make their back pouring concrete and to get grease stuck under their fingernails working as mechanics. They need to be on the hazardous waste disposers, lumberjackwomen, and all other dangerous positions that only men have been stuck doing all these generations. Only feminists. The time for gender equality in the work force is now.

Clinton Foundation peddles wage gap myth, gets torn apart in the comments.
youtube.com/watch?v=RBhLkR...
@MarkDice

PrisonPlanet.com
Women earn cents for every dollar a man earns—for doing the same work

ACTS: No one can explain how many times the wage gap claim is debunked. It always comes back. The bottom line: the 23% gender pay gap is simply the difference between the average earnings of all men and all women working full time. It does not account for differences in occupations, positions, education, job tenure or hours worked per week. When such relevant factors are considered, the wage gap narrows to the point of vanishing.

Mark Dice
I agree with the feminists that there's too much sexism in the workforce. We need more women to become bricklayers, tree trimmers, and to break that glass ceiling by pouring concrete and to get grease stuck underneath engines working as mechanics. Not to keep up with the Joneses, but to disprove the disgusting, wasteful, and false stereotypes that fuel the feminists' rage. Only then can we fully appreciate the joys that come with living in a society that has achieved gender equality in the workforce. Period.

A ot of nonsense about porn has been spoufed on here the ast 24 hours The ssue is not about pornography it s about hypocritica fem nist attitudes toward rape

Pornography is not a threat to my free speech rights 3rd wave feminism is

Pornography s not be ng taught to school and college kids 3rd wave fem n sm is

Pornography isn t backed by multi million dollar advert.sing campaigns and the largest corporations and banks on the p.anef 3rd wave feminism is

It doesn t matter whether you th nk porn is mora ly destructive or not that s not the ssue The issue is that all rape victims should be treated with the same compassion

#GamerGate

This question is for #GamerGate, anti-Gamergate (Whateverthefuck failed hashtag you're going by today) and to all the neutrals out there

Which is the more insane conspiracy theory?

1 - A bunch of ethically challenged journalists gave some of their dev buddies positive reviews without disclosing financial links & refused to report on any negative stories regarding friends behaviour. Because they lack both ethics & professionalism, when called on this they threw a major fit, blamed everyone else under the sun & tried to hide behind allegations of harassment, this igniting a major backlash from customers furious at being branded as 'misogynists', 'virgins', & 'losers'

2 - Thousands of people from all over the world covering pretty much every gender, ethnicity, orientation, political affiliation, geographical location, shoe size, hair colour and neckbeard status got together, completely at random, to start harassing women out of gaming. They did this because reasons, and also anyone who voices any disagreement with the heavily pushed narrative also hates women (even if they are women) or minorities (even if they are minorities). The hashtag #notyourshield was created as an asymmetric form of super-misogyny and anyone supporting #GamerGate who is not White and not Male (hint: There's fucking thousands of us) is an internalised sockpuppet and certainly not real.

Pardon me? I take pride in what I do around the house for myself and my honey. I cook, he fixes the vehicles. I do the laundry, he shovels the snow.

Do I occasionally shovel? Yes. Does he do cook for me sometimes? Yes, although it makes me slightly nervous to hear the bangs and clangs. MY KITCHEN!!

We can take care of our own homes, relationships, and delegation of chores. Keep your feminazi tripe out of our lives. The reason you feminists are all so miserable is because you think you are more important than you actually are. We live by our rules. Not yours.

So piss off.

"Extremism in defense of liberty is no vice."

to justify it.

Observe that their dominant overtone is not a quest for the "white," but an obsessive terror of being branded "black" (and with good reason). Observe that they are pleading for a morality which would hold compromise as its standard of value and would thus make it possible to gauge virtue by the number of values one is willing to betray

The consequences and the "vested interests" of their doctrine are visible all around us.

Observe, in politics, that the term extremism has become a synonym of "evil," regardless of the content of the issue (the evil is not what you are "extreme" about, but that you are "extreme"—i.e., consistent). Observe the phenomenon of the so-called neutralists in the United Nations: the "neu-

Whining feminists are retiring because of "hate" & not because their arguments have been soundly rejected. Honest!

If you can't take the heat, get out of the fire. The journalists listed in this article regularly take egregiously one-sided positions on gender issues, causing actual harm to actual men. It's the mob that smeared the Duke lacrosse fraternity and the waitress carrying Biden's ex-boyfriend before the facts came out. They're the ones who continue to falsely portray Gamergate as an anti-woman movement, ignoring the piles of evidence that countless women support it and are being harassed and threatened by feminists for doing so on political grounds. They represent the lowest, worst form of journalism: the deceptive, fact-concealing advocate who pretends at a journalistic lack of bias - and they deserve strong verbal criticism for it.

This author claims our culture is "anti-feminist." On the contrary, this is a culture that has largely accepted feminism's unbelievable claim that their pro-woman, anti-man anti-due process policies are just seeking "equality." And this is a culture that, like the author, frequently lumps together all men's rights movements as a form of "misogyny," engaging in exactly the same kind of generalizations that they condemn vis a vis feminism.

So when was it exactly that "right wing" became synonymous with "anti-government"?

History of the terms [edit]

The terms "left" and "right" appeared during the French Revolution of 1789 when members of the National Assembly divided into supporters of the king to the president's right and supporters of the revolution to his left. One deputy, the Baron de Gauville explained, "We began to recognize each other: those who were loyal to religion and the king took up positions to the right of the chair so as to avoid the shouts, oaths, and indecencies that enjoyed free rein in the opposing camp. However, the Right opposed the seating arrangement because they believed that deputies should support private or general interests but should not form factions or political parties. The contemporary press occasionally used the terms "left" and "right" to refer to the opposing sides.[4]

Africa for Africans. Asia for Asians. White countries for everybody? That's Nobody is saying that Africans in Africa will ever be a minority. Nobody is saying that Asians in Asia will ever be a minority.

So why are they saying Whites will be a minority in Britain in 2036? In Sweden in 2024? And in France in 2040?

That's because there's MASSIVE non-White immigration in EVERY White country and ONLY White countries.

Because there's a program of White geNOcide.

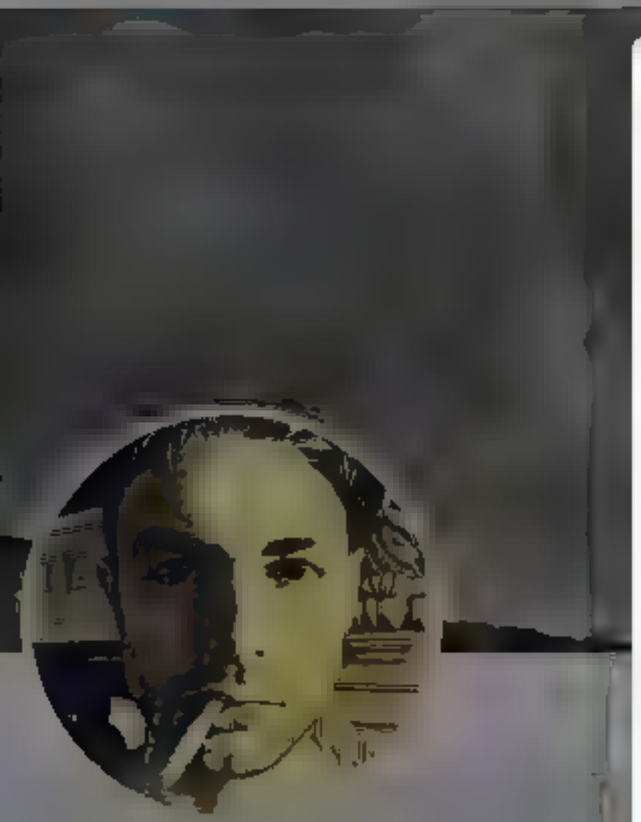
This is how people acquiesce in an irrational society. They self-censor. They yield. They are intellectual cowards.

man is to be judge[d] [by] the things which he condemns or extols exist in objective reality and are open to the independent appraisal of others. It is his own moral character and standards that he reveals, when he blames or praises. If he condemns America and extols Soviet Russia—or if he attacks businessmen and defends juvenile delinquents—or if he denounces a great work of art and praises trash—it is the nature of his own soul that he confesses.

It is their fear of this responsibility that prompts most people to adopt an attitude of indiscriminate moral neutrality. It is the fear best expressed in the precept: "Judge not, that ye be not judged." But that precept, in fact, is an abdication of moral responsibility: it is a moral blank check one gives to others in exchange for a moral blank check one expects for oneself.



There is no escape from the fact that men have to make choices; so long as men have to make choices, there is no escape from moral values; so long as moral values are at stake, no moral neutrality is possible. To abstain from con-
